Growing with Leo

The 1967-68 year was a year of growth and change. Our building doubled its size; our enrollment continued to grow; curriculum offerings increased; while sports and activities were expanded.

Student interests ranged from bikes to Buicks, and from knee socks to nylons.

For tiny tots and tall seniors, this has been a year of growth.

Banquets and Initiations

Athletic girls initiated

Senior Sextet provided the entertainment at the G.A.A. banquet.

Annual Letterman's club banquet

A letterman's initiation.

Annual Best-Girl banquet

Drill Squad banquet

It Happens Every Day

Randy, it looks like she'd be a messy housewife, doesn't it?

April Fools!

Hurry up, Cheryl, people are waiting!

Cheers!

School Council Elections

Rick & Terry (Nationalists) vs. Tom & Randy (Action)

LHS views its new school council President, Rick Weilbaker, as he takes the oath for office.

Leo's last bachelor went to the hitching post.

Better see an optometrist about your eye problem, Rex.

Could this be Leo's Chorus girls?

"That's all right Robin, you'll grow into it!"

Oh, it can't be that big, can it Darrell?

The academic school year demands many hours and much hard work.

Proving math theorems.

Learning Spanish verbs

Diagramming complex sentences

Observing chemical reactions

Taking dictation at 120 words per minutes

Keeping government notebooks up-to-date.

All of these make up . . .

ACADEMICS

Future Scientists and Mathematicians?

ROW 4: Mrs. Platt, C. Rediger, S. Zehr, B. Facks, J. Stuckey, B. Kruse, G. Timmerman.

This year our School Council was led by Bob Fruchey. They sponsored a spring dance in which 75% of the profits were given to the class with the highest attendance. The council's major service to the school was the organizing of the annual Council elections.

The Young Americans for Freedom Club presented Dr. Crane, who spoke to the student body on the topic "A Conservative Looks at America." They also formed a long chain letter to send to Leo graduates who are now serving in the armed forces.

These organizations promote good school and community citizenship.

Character Makes Its Own Destiny

The Senior and Junior National Honor societies promote high scholarship, leadership, service, and character building. Under the leadership of Mr. Madden, honor students have faithfully served as concession workers during the noon hour. The Senior Honor Society also handled all the basketball programs for our home games.

A National Honor Society Scholarship is given to a senior member annually. This scholarship is made possible through the profits from the concession stand.

Good Citizens and Good Sports

The Hi-Y and Letterman's Club are two prominent organizations at L.H.S. Hi-Y members participated in a Sunday basketball league at the Y.M.C.A. An annual fund raising project of the group has been the sweatshirt sale. Members of the Hi-Y also sponsored a "Best Girl Banquet" held in the Spring.

The Letterman's Club, an honorary athletic organization, was formed with the purpose of promoting school athletic activities. The club consists of those students who have won an athletic numeral or letter certificate. The club sponsored a basketball game between the Leo All-Stars and the Manchester College Varsity.

Exercise and sportsmanship are promoted through these two clubs.

'68 Oracle Records Our Growth

A. Miller--Editor, Mrs. Sauder--Sponsor, L. Fett--Asst. Editor.

The 1968 Oracle staff worked diligently to complete this year's book on schedule. The theme "Growing with Leo" coincides mainly with the construction of our new addition and progress of the year in general.

The annual staff earned money by sponsoring a dance and also through the sale of advertising. The money in turn was spent to produce this memory-filled yearbook.

Most of the work was done by the section editors who devoted much of their time after school throughout the year.

SECTION EDITORS: E. Shoemaker--School Life, D. Zuber--Academic, B. Sammetinger--Personalities, L. Howard--Organizations, P. Strong--Sports.

Annual Staff: ROW 1: C. Salter, S. Hedges, K. Jones, L. Mires, J. Marolf, L. Sprouls. ROW 2: N. Beedy, C. Deter, A. Chard, D. Repine, M. Buhl, D. Nelson, M. Baldwin.

Ad Salesmen

An active group, the newspaper staff provided L.H.S. students with good coverage of local school happenings. Dramatic productions, college information, sports run-downs, and student news all were included in the frequent editions of the Lion's Tale. A special Sport's Flyer was prepared for each home basketball game. Thanks to these hard-working students we have a well-informed student body.

Co-Editors: G. Furnish, G. Timmerman, Advisor: Mrs. Belschner.

Serious and Intellectual

Serving Leo High School students faithfully were the members of the Librarian's Club and the Projectionist's Club. These two groups of active students daily checked out books, catalogued magazines, filed clippings, showed films, laminated maps and posters, indexed film strips and provided other useful services.

Members of the new Debate Club prepared debates on the U.S. involvement in Viet Nam and on the true story of Unidentified Flying Objects. The groups, directed by Mrs. Morgan, arranged visiting debates with neighboring schools.

The intricacies of the game of chess were explained by sponsor, Lowell Madden. Weekly this group met to match their wits in this intriguing game.

Leo's Drill Squad has been seen during half-time activities of most home football and basketball games. Under the leadership of Marianne Norr, these girls have provided many striking routines for the pleasure of Leo fans. The girls varied their costumes to compliment their different routines.

The Booster Club was much in evidence at Leo's ball games this year. Dressed in their white outfits they added enthusiasm to the cheering section.

Both of these energetic groups helped stimulate school spirit at L.H.S.

Exciting football games, basketball games, parades, and contests occupied the time of many concert band members this year. They also performed in the Christmas Program, Spring Concert, and Grabill Barn Days. The annual fruit cake sale sponsored by the band was very successful. The band enjoyed a Senior Music Tour in the spring.

The Stage Band sponsored a sock hop and participated in a Stage Band and Swing Choir Tour.

Members of the Jr. High Band and Pop Band contributed to the accomplishments of the instrumental music department.

The Concert Choir, under the capable direction of Mrs. Susan Nelson, sang in various community functions and local churches. Highlights of the season were the Christmas program, Easter Program and Spring Concert. The choir also participated in the vocal music contest.

The girls of the choir this year were especially proud of the new mint green dresses and the boys enjoyed their handsome white dinner jackets.

The Swing Choir spent many Tuesday nights in practice for their various performances. They performed at the Cedar Creek Women's Club and various concerts within the school.

The Cambiata Choir, which consists of seventh and eighth grade members, also helped in rounding off the vocal section of our music department.

This year Leo is happy to announce the success of six Leo students in the recording of their first album. The Harmonettes album includes both religious and secular music.

The 1967-68 varsity basketball season had many highlights--the greatest one coming in the County Tourney when the "Purple" made the final game by defeating a strong Monroeville team. The Lions ended their season with a strong game against Concordia, losing out by nine points in the final minutes. This game evened up our record at 11 wins and 11 losses. The team was exciting to watch and in winning a share of the ACAC brought much glory to Leo.

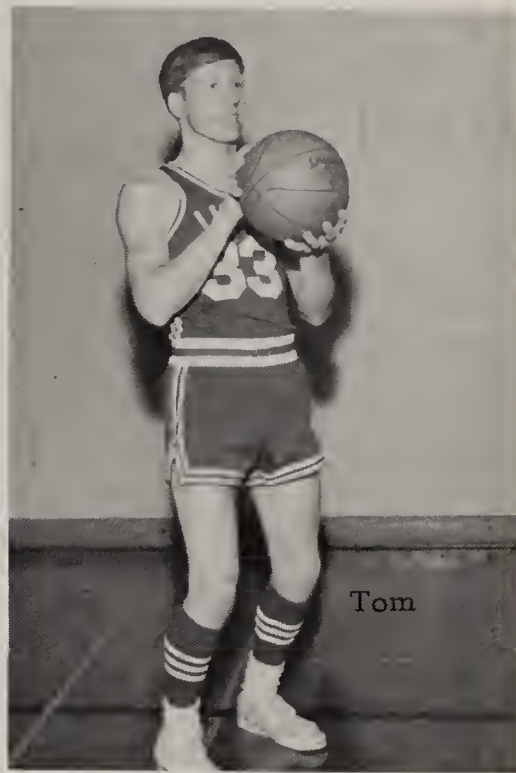

Jon Liechty was the team's outstanding player, but all our wins were true team efforts. Tom Sebert, the team leader, was selected Honorary Captain.

Leo's Little Lions . . .

The 8th grade basketball team was extremely successful this season. Mr. Schlatter led this outstanding team to the ACAC Jr. High tourney title with an amazing record of sixteen and one. Tim Minnick and Mike Lederman were the team leaders; however, Mr. Schlatter felt it was a great team effort.

The 7th grade team, under the capable leadership of Mr. Anderson, had an equally great season. They won seven of nine games. The two games they did lose were close battles, being overtaken in one game by a free throw and the other by a field goal. Leo's future basketball seasons look very bright.

Leo's Growing Lions . . .

This year's reserve team was most surprising. They started out weak in many positions, but by the end of the season developed into an outstanding unit. They won ten of eighteen games, and had many fine players. Mitch Zehr and Ted Minnick were the leading scorers and rebounders.

Mr. Platt said, "Defense was as much a winner for us as anything, plus the good attitude of the boys."

The 1967-68 Freshmen Basketball team had an up and down season. They beat the big schools--DeKalb, Bishop Dwenger, and New Haven--but had trouble with the smaller ones.

Mr. Stuelpe commented, "A fine group with good spirit--who plan to become outstanding ball players." We hope they do.

The Balance of Power

Leo's varsity football team got off to a rocky start. They did, however, build a good team with their inexperienced ball players. They finished with a 2-6 season, defeating Norwell's and Woodlan's "B" teams.

Mr. Walton said it was a "squad effort" and looks for the 1968 season to improve on the "Purple's" present outstanding record.

The freshman football team's season started off slowly but as the season progressed, the team improved. They tied with Huntertown in the 2nd game of the season. The boys climaxed their season with a triumph over Hoagland.

This year's season was outstanding with a record of 3-1 and a share of the Jr. High ACAC championship. Mr. Schlatter feels that next season will be very promising.

Junior High--ROW 1: D. Zorger, B. Monesmith, K. Stuary, M. Myers, S. Jones, T. Farnsworth, D. Grieser, T. Michael. ROW 2: M. Carey, L. Klopfenstein, G. Liechty, D. DeHaven, R. Zuber, L. Lengacher, R. Pre-game warm up

ROW 2: G. Wetzel, T. Sebert, J. Liechty, K. Fishbaugh, R. Wells, Mr. Frick.

Sock It to 'Em

Leo started out their 67-68 Volleyball season with a loss to Monroeville, but won the next eight sets. In the tournament we again lost to Monroeville and finished 2nd in the ACAC. Jon Liechty was selected for the All-State ACAC team.

Cross Country Capers

Senior High--S. Sommers, J. Leichty, H. Leichty, B. Oddou, D. Komanec, J. Snelling, J. Perkins, R. Bollinger, S. Zuber, M. Koldeway, B. Stuckey.

Leo's cross country squad ran in seven triangular meets and also several major relays. The District meet ended the harrier's successful season.

Bill Oddou was selected the honorary captain and was also high point man.

Coach Oetting led the "Purple" to achieve 3rd in the ACAC and 8th in the District.

This year Mr. Divelbiss formed an undefeated Jr. High team, which may mean future trophies for LHS.

Best Batters and Basemen

The baseball season of 15 wins and 5 losses was capped with the first Sectional title ever won by our school. Certainly our school is very proud of this and offers our congratulations to the team. This year's batting champ was Tom Sebert with a .345 average. Rick Wells was the ERA champ (pitcher).

This year G.A.A. was very active in basketball and volleyball. Some of the games were played against New Haven, Huntertown, Churubusco, and Arcola. The volleyball tourney was held the second week of April.

The major fund raising project was the car wash. Profits from this project were used to help pay for the girls' banquet, which was held in May.

New green sweatshirts were added to the girls' outfits to wear during games. Also new was the addition of about twenty-five members this year. G.A.A. expresses the growth in girls' sports at Leo.

In the crowded halls of LHS we see daily:

A worried seventh grader struggling with his locker;

An eighth grade girl searching for her gym shoes;

A freshman band member proudly displaying a new well-fitted band uniform;

Sophomore girls waiting to be asked to the big dance;

Juniors working frantically to get last minute prom plans finished;

A senior surrounded by commencement announcements, caps and gowns, senior pictures, graduation, and all those future plans--

All of these and many more make up LHS . . .

PERSONALITIES

“They Marshall’st Us the Way That We Are Going”

No hours were too long, no job too demanding for Mr. Jones, our principal. His leadership has provided much stability through this year of growth and change.

Mr. Harding, superintendent of East Allen County School Corporation, has provided thoughtful coordination of the many facets of school administration.

Jane Howey Loves Organizing Books, Will Care for New Leo High Library

By SHEILA STACK

(News-Sentinel Staff Writer)

Leo High School is in a period of transition.

A new life is being grafted onto the old building.

Right now the new is raw and the old is mellow but soon — sometime this month — the bandages will be removed and the raw and the mellow will have merged into a perfect combination of the two. And the new will lose its rough edges and the mellow will gain a freshness and vigor.

Sheila Stack

A new life.

The change is going on right now. Each day Leo High School students arrive to find things a little changed, a little different. They go to class. First period is in an old room, wooden and polished, but lived in and worn. Second period might be in the new part.

The bell rings and the narrow halls of the old building are filled with a crush of kids. From 7th grade to 12th grade they explode out of classrooms into the halls. Each of them are headed in a different direction. There is no way to get there except crush.

An electric switch on the arm raises and lowers the book rack to help her up and down. The back is adjustable with a hand crank, which she seldom uses. She has fastened the remote control for the television to the chair for even more convenience.

Some head to the new rawness. The part that is being fused onto the old. The part without heat, the part with plain cement floors and paintless walls. But there are desks and there is promise. The raw will be ready soon and it will be right. The right size with wide hallways and spacious classrooms. It will have the right lighting and the right painting.

Right now each of the classrooms are full. Full with the freshness of students and the mellowness of teachers and the interchange of ideas between the two. And the ideas are grafted too. And some take and some don't but the exposure to them is there.

And the new building will have a new library. Right now the books live in one corner of the gym. Along with the superfluous. With extra typewriters, extra chairs, and in the corner, books.

In the new library they will be arranged and catalogued, each in a special place and the librarian will know the place for each one. In the new library they will have someone to take care of them. Someone who loves books. Someone who says, "books have always been a big part of my life."

Someone who has the love of books and the organization to be a librarian.

Jane Howey.

Jane wants to combine a career as a teacher and a librarian.

She is president of the Hoosier Student Librarian Association. She has been secretary and vice president. She is busy and she is organized. She spent one year, last year, her year as vice-president, organizing a convention for 500 at Purdue this Fall.

"My father says I can organize anything but my room," she said. "But if I spent as much time at home as I do at school, I'd be organized. I could set up a filing system for my clothes."

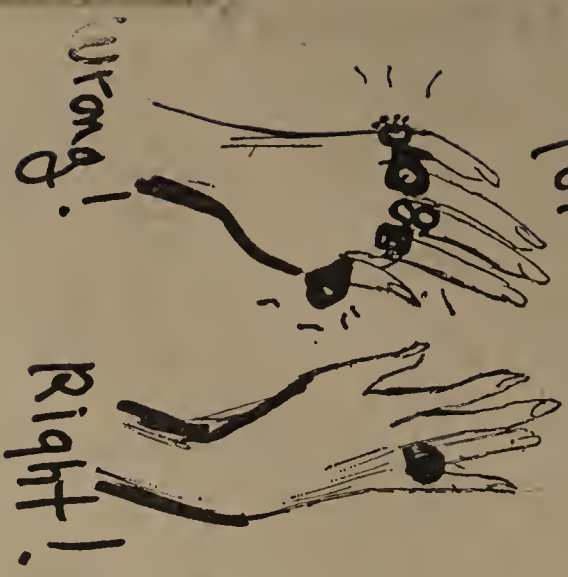

The Hoosier Student Librarian Association holds an annual convention at one of the four state universities. The vice-president has the job of arranging the convention. Jane organized each of session of the convention, panels of foreign students at the university, tours of the campus, speakers and accommodations for students.

At the convention officers for the coming year are selected on the basis of school recommendation, a three minute speech on why they want the office, and a general election. Jane is one of the few students from Northern Indiana to hold office in HSLA. She is one of the youngest.

The Leo High School library is in good hands.

Q: I am a teen-ager, and my mother says it's incorrect to wear more than one ring on each hand. Is she right?
 Answer: For school or day wear, yes, she is right. I know there is a terrific fad to wear as many as you can get on your fingers. If you like that look — and your mother will let you — wear all of them after school or at parties. A lot of jewelry really isn't part of the right "school look." I prefer just one ring, on one hand, for school wear.

For School?

Question: Is a Nehru dress worn with a medalion o k a y for office work? It looks a little "costumey" to me, and I don't like it, but I'm told it's the newest thing, and I don't want to look old-fashioned.

Answer: It all depends on the "accepted" look of your office. If other employees wear them, I don't see why you can't. I agree with you — they are a little "costumey," but so is much fashion nowadays. My motto is: If you don't like it, don't wear it. However, the very simple Nehru dress can be very smart — and you don't have to wear the medalion!

Question: I love the new idea of pants for city wear and evening wear — but I have a large "bottom." Even a panty girdle doesn't help. Have you any tricks you use on stars with my problem?

Answer: Very few stars, at least none I know, have large "bottoms." But, if they had and wanted to wear pants, I'd have them wear a "bottom"-covering jacket for daywear — either with or without sleeves — and a tunic or long jacket for evening wear. (Have you tried exercises?)

Question: Do actresses ever get to wear the clothes they use in pictures for their personal use?

Answer: Very seldom, unless it's something they like very much the studio will let them wear them for some special reason. For example, Katharine Ross wore the white dinner dress and matching coat from her last picture to London when she made personal appearances.

Question: I love knitted dresses, but don't they make one look fatter? I haven't tried one for ages, but I used to feel like a sausage in them.

Answer: Yes, the knits of the past did fit like the skin on a sausage, but not the new ones. And, they do not "bag" or stretch. Some are made of bonded wool knit, others are lined. There are many brands. Ask the saleslady for the "no-cling" variety.

he does do something to help. Sit down and explain that you're part of the "earning" team, and you need his help on the home front. But don't whine or nag.

Dear Abby: I am 23 and my husband (I'll call him John) is 26. We have one child, a year old, and have been married five years.

Ever since our marriage John has worked for my father who is a successful cattle rancher.

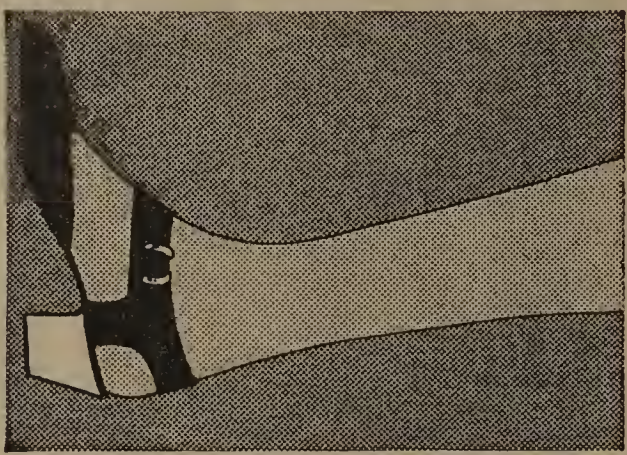

Every morning Daddy calls John and tells him what to do. John never makes any of the decisions. Daddy does. John works about 15 hours a day. He doesn't get any pay, but we get our keep and we know when Daddy goes, everything will be John's and mine. My folks have really been wonderful to us.

The problem: John's father has a used car lot in California and he's invited us to move there, and if we like it, John can buy into the business. John wants to move. So do I, but if we do, my folks will be heartbroken as we'd be taking their only grandchild away. What should we do?

Dear Torn: John should be a man and do what he wants to do, and as his wife, you should encourage him to do the manly thing. I'm sorry for your parents, but I'm sorry for you and John if you stay when you really want to go.

Dear Abby: I am going to be maid of honor at a wedding in a couple of weeks. My problem is that the bride is insisting that I go to her hairdresser and let him do my hair the way she wants it for the wedding. She has one style picked out for ALL the girls in the wedding party, and it's very unbecoming to me.

cupation as a sleeping room, and this is also a good solution for a guest room in a small house or apartment. Such a room requires a hanging closet, a chest for folding clothes and a bed which can be used as a sofa in the daytime. Various types of beds can be employed in such a situation, from a fine old French daybed to convertibles or boxsprings and mattresses on legs, fitted out with bolsters to render them sofas. I incline to the latter since a normal-sized foam rubber mattress, given this treatment, is as comfortable as any other bed and also provides comfortable seating. If the bed-sitting room is used as a guest room only, the mattress and boxsprings (on brass legs, for instance) with bolsters, can be upholstered in a suitable fabric and made up with linen nightly. If the room has full-time use as a bedroom, it is advisable to have the kind of treatment which permits linen and bedding to stay on it — a tailored dust ruffle and bedspread which tucks in around the mattress gives a neat appearance, but it is possible to use spreads or throws of any sort which provide a satisfactory daytime-sofa appearance. There are many good-looking readymade examples on the market.

If the room is large enough to accommodate twin mattresses and boxsprings, they can be arranged at right angles on two walls with a table between and double as sofas in the daytime. I have often used this plan in guest rooms in houses where space was not at a premium, because a sitting room atmosphere is pleasant for a guest in the daytime. It is usually more satisfactory to have a table built to accommodate the two beds, with space for extra bedding underneath.

For the Class of '68: Knowledge Comes but Wisdom Lingers

Melanie Gillett presented our valedictory address.

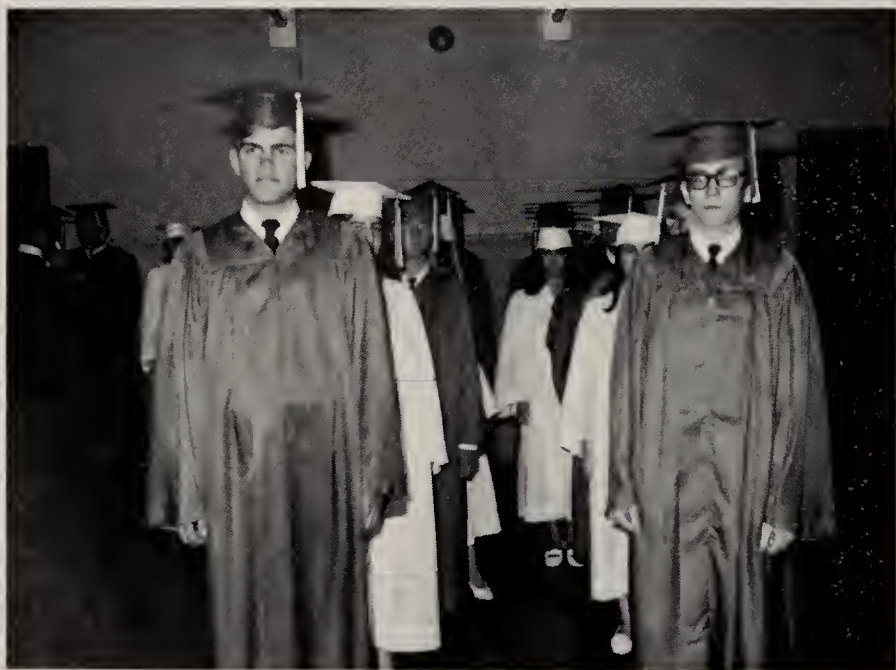

Baccalaureate services, May 19, 1968, and Commencement exercises, May 23, 1968, were held in the school gymnasium. The speaker for Baccalaureate services was Rev. Darell Dean of the Cedar Creek Church of Christ. Senior students presented their own Commencement program.

Salutatorians, Anita Miller, Rex Knepp, and Don Gehrig were represented by Don during Commencement exercises.

Somber seniors stand in line for the final Leo High School procession.

Roger Neuenschwander, vice-president of the senior class, presented the class gift to the school.

Mr. Bollinger, member of the school board, presents the diplomas.

Let me fix your tie, Mark!

I wonder what's next!

The senior sextet provided vocal music for both Commencement and Baccalaureate.

*We,
the Class of '68,*

Sincerely extend our best wishes to the underclassmen. We shall always remember the six short years spent at L.H.S.

The faculty, the students; the activities, the classes; the class trips, the class parties; the best of times, the worst of times; the disputes, the agreements; our struggles, our rewards; the tears, the laughter; the music tours and contests, the sport events; the tensions, the consolations; the racket of lockers banging at the close of the day, the strained silence of the exams; the Proms, and our Graduation.

To all of you who have made our school career a pleasant one, and especially the Annual Staff, we say,

"THANK YOU"

MORGAN

what next?

After high school, what: travel, work, service, college or technical school?

Regardless of your choice, how far you go in this space age depends partly on your imagination but primarily on your education and training. Conquering new horizons will demand more knowledge, more skills, more training and more specialization.

Our free-enterprise system, the backbone of our country, has given us the highest standard of living in the world and the greatest degree of individual freedom. And it offers you the opportunity to make your mark in any field of endeavor you choose.

The 1967-68 year has come to a close. The growing for this year is done, but growth will continue for all in the years to come.

We wish to thank the faculty, Mr. Jones, and the advertisers for their co-operation. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Sauder, our adviser, for the many hours she donated to help us capture the memories of the past year of growth for the student body of L.H.S.
